We ask it to the boys to help them out and we say, "We must never forget how they gave up their lives in life and went to sea and across to face shot and shell for us that we might live to enjoy the triumph of life. Many of our boys went away and gave up their lives. The people are beginning to forget that. But the American Legion has not forgotten and they stand ready to fight again, to uphold the principles of our constitution. So therefore help the boys here at their carnival and spend money freely that they may pay their debts and be on their feet again. Remember the dates, May 25th and 26th.

BOTTLE FACTORY

The Conopus Club Committee on Industry had a conference last Saturday with a group of representative bottle blowers at which time organization plans were gone over in detail.

The visiting gentlemen who were substantial home owning citizens were well pleased with our town and its present and prospective advantages and expressed their interest in making Smithport their permanent home, provided the industry can be placed upon a sound basis.

They advanced several practical suggestions which are now being worked out. The prospects for the establishment of this very desirable industry are excellent.

GEORGE E. ALTER

CLAIMS VICTORY

The headquarters of Attorney General George E. Alter declared that the returns of two-thirds of the state shows Alter leading Pinchot by 25,000.

The Pinchot followers claim that Pinchot will win with a majority of at least 10,000.

The late returns sustain Pinchot's nomination and it has been conceded by Governor Sprout.

Pinchot carried the county by a large majority.

George Wharton, Pepper and Major Reed were nominated for U. S. Senators.

Wm. I. Swoope, Clearfield, defeated Ryan J. Jones for Congress. Jones, carried McKean County by a big majority but lost Centre and Clearfield Counties.

O. E. Gustafson of Kane defeated Chas. W. Catlin by about 100 votes or less for the legislature.

ELECTRICAL CONSTRUCTION STARTED

Yesterday, work of digging post holes on Water street began. Most of the material for construction has been shipped, as the material arrives a larger force of men will be engaged in construction.

Mr. Quinlan, an electrical engineer of the Western Electric Company is in town today. His services are free to the borough. This company is arranging to make Smithport one of the best illuminated towns in Northwestern Pennsylvania.

Smithport took the step forward at the right time. The borough will have not only the most modern equipment, but is saving thousands of dollars in buying at the right time and taking advantage of certain conditions existing in the electrical business of this section of the state.

REV. O. GREY HUTCHINSON

Rev. O. Grey Hutchinson, pastor of the Baptist church of Dover, Del., passed away Thursday May eleven after a brief illness.

Rev. Hutchinson was well known here where he was pastor of the Baptist church for two years and half, leaving here December fifteen for Jersey Shore. He was an enthusiastic worker both in and out of his church, a mighty force for good in the town. During his pastoral here his church membership increased from twenty-five to fifty-five members. He organized and successfully operated a cradle roll, a home department, a Woman's Missionary circle, a Junior Christian Endeavor and a Mission at Ormsby.

He was the organizer of the Boy Scouts troop, and their first Scout Master. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge. He was about fifty years of age.

In June 1914 Rev. Hutchinson was united in marriage with Miss Mabel White of Upland, Pa., who with their two children survive him. He leaves a large circle of friends who deeply regret his loss. The funeral was held Sunday at Dover Delaware.

Mrs. Grace Gallen was judge of election; Mrs. Grace McKean and Eva Herzog as inspectors; and Mrs. Kate Mathewson and Eva Herzog were clerks. They were a group of capable and efficient women who can do this sort of thing in an amateur way, as well as the professional office holders.

This was the first time for any of these ladies to serve on the election board or hold any political office. They did their work thoroughly and with enthusiasm and enthusiastically promised to repeat their praiseworthy performance in the fall election.

LITTLE GIRL STRUCK BY CAR AT REW CITY.

Bradford, May 18.—Mary Jane Hullen, seven-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hullen of Rew, is in a critical condition in the Bradford hospital, suffering from a fractured skull, received in a distressing accident at Rew yesterday afternoon. The little girl was struck by an automobile owned by W. S. Gaffney and driven by his chauffeur. Mr. Gaffney was coming from Smethport, his machine being driven at moderate speed, when the accident occurred at the top of Rew hill. The little girl ran out from behind a tractor and an automobile that were standing beside the road, directly in front of the Gaffney car. The machine struck her, throwing her to one side of the road. It was impossible for the chauffeur to stop the car in time to avoid the accident. Witnesses said he was driving carefully.

Mr. Gaffney's car was stopped as quickly as possible, and the injured child was taken in and rushed to the hospital. At an early hour this morning her condition was reported as extremely critical, there being a very bad fracture of the skull.—Bradford Era.

HARRY COPPING SHOWS AT PORT ALLEGANY

The Frank Burt Post has signed up the Harry Copping Shows for the McKean County American Legion convention, which will be held in Port Allegany on the week of July 4th. The Harry Copping Shows are the same carnival company that were at Kane last year, and are one of the largest carnival companies on the road today. Their outfit consists of at least 35 concessions, probably more, ten shows and four riding devices, and a first-class brass band. The outfit takes fifteen cars to handle. The brass band is scheduled to give a sacred concert on the public square, Sunday evening, July 2nd. This is the same carnival company that made up the Midway at the fair last year.

The Post has also signed up with Lieut. Emory of Bradford to give aerobline flights on each day of the convention. Exhibition flights will be given, including a parachute drop and passenger flights will be made.

Arrangements have practically been completed to have Col. Thompson, Pennsylvania state commander of the American Legion, to be present as speaker on Monday, July 3.—Bradford Herald.

The McKean County Farm Loan Association has application for $100,000 additional loans pending.—The Argus.

GAS-CUSHER NEAR RIDGWAY.

Ridgway, Pa., May 13.—The recent gas eruption on the farm of Frank Geor, Fairview Hill with a flow of 1,200,000 cubic feet of gas a day, has caused a surprise to local gas men.

The gas field in which the new well is located is an old and much proposed one, and with well drilled on all sides of it, experts are at a loss to understand how the valuable pocket is un tapped so long.

The gas cusher, which is owned by S. P. Oakes of West Ridgway, came in with tremendous force just as the Speechley said was "to be penetrated." This gas bearing sand was struck at a depth of 2,020 feet, and the force was so great that steps were taken into the air to the height of the rise.

HEW HERE IN PLANE FOR FEW HOURS' VISIT

Captain Clayton Bissell, of the U. S. Aviation Corps, who recently returned from a tour of France, Great Britain, Italy and Germany, and who is one of the few surviving aces of the American service, in world war, flew from Washington, D. C. to his home here, Saturday evening to spend a few hours with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bissell of Janeway street, on Mothers' Day. Captain Bissell made a non-stop arriving here about 6:30 p. m. The flight from Washington, D. C. to this city in two hours, 50 minutes. The plane was a De Havilland model, equipped with a 400 h. p. Liberty motor. The captain was accompanied by Mechanician Berkley. The flight from Washington was started in the face of an approaching storm but the plane was quickly guided to an altitude above the storm clouds and the trip made without incident.

The aviators departed on the return trip to Washington about 4 o'clock and landed in this city soon after six. A large crowd of motorists gathered in the vicinity of the Country Club to watch the start of the return flight which was made from the landing place on the Glatt farm.—Kane Republican.

FOUR AUTOMOBILES IN COLLISION.

Three automobiles badly smashed and a fourth slightly damaged and two men considerably cut and bruised was the outcome of an automobile accident in front of the Auditorium last Thursday evening. The injured men were Chauncey Baker, who was cut about the neck and severely bruised about the chest from impact against the steering wheel, and P. L. Tyler who received several cuts in the neck from broken glass from the windshield.

The accident occurred when Chauncey Baker, who was driving his Dodge car north on Fifth street, apparently lost control of his car and swerved into a line of empty automobiles, which was standing in front of the Opera House while their owners were enjoying the play "An Old Fashioned Mother" inside. The impact was terrific as persons who saw the accident state variously that the car was going anywhere from 15 to 60 miles an hour. It is generally stated that the car was speeding.

The Dodge car hit a brand new Ford owned by William Swanson, wrecking it badly. The Ford swerved to the right, jumped the curb, and the front stuck a new twelve inch electric light pole, snapping it off at the base. The pole in falling nearly hit a couple of pedestrians on the walk nearby. The rear part of the Ford swung into the rear of another Ford owned by Arthur Landen of Hazlehurst, which was standing directly in front of it. The Landen car was telescoped and practically ruined. Apparently the only unbroken parts on it were the windshield and a tire or two. Landen's car hit a Ford owned by Harry Taylor, smashing in the back to some extent. Baker's Dodge car was badly smashed in the front end, but the motor was in running order after the accident. The entire damage is estimated at about $1200 to $1500.

After the accident Baker was still sitting in his car, apparently dazed. Taylor was able to walk to the hospital himself, and Baker was taken there a few minutes later. Neither was badly hurt, though severely shaken and bruised. It was lucky there was no one in the other cars, as the results, judging from the condition of the smashed cars, might have been fatal.

The wrecked cars were hauled to the local garage shortly after the accident.

The collision made a terrific crash, and was heard several blocks away. Broken glass from the windshield was scattered over a distance of more than a hundred feet of the pavilion. A large crowd of people soon collected about the scene of the accident. The electric light pole was lying flat on the ground, with the Swanson car about five feet on top of it. The electric light wires were stretched along the grass near the sidewalk, but were not broken. There was danger from live wires for a time, but thorough electrician Robinson was summoned and soon had temporary repairs made.

The Swanson car had just been purchased and had been in Mr. Swanson's possession only a week and had been driven but a very short distance. Both it and the Landen car are practically ruined.—The Argus.

FIREMEN RECEIVED SUBSTANTIAL SUM.

The citizens of Marienville, the outlying little Forest county town recently almost destroyed by fire, took up a public subscription during the week amounting to $200, which was brought to Kane yesterday by Joseph Bastian and presented to Kane Fire Department as a token of appreciation from the citizens of Marienville for the excellent work of the firemen on the occasion above mentioned. Kane firemen willingly gave their aid and are much pleased at this substantial tribute but more pleased that their efforts met with the thankful appreciation of the citizens of Marienville.

PUTTING BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT

During the fiscal year July 1, 1920, to June 30, 1921, the actual cost of running the government was $5,538,049.68. During the month of this period the administrative agencies of the government were wholly in the hands of the Democratic party.

During the current fiscal year which began in July 1, last, and ends June 30, next, it will cost $5,922,722.030 to run the government. During this period all the executive agencies of the government have been under Republican control.

This is a saving of $1,600,000 which the Republican administration has made in one year as compared with the last year of Democratic rule.

These figures are not just work which is taken from the books of the government. They are set down in a report just made to Congress by the Director of the Budget. They answer conclusively and most emphatically the charges of the Democratic party that Republicanism in public economy are not based upon fact.

Going into details, the report shows that the ordinary expenditures for the operation of routine business conducted by the executive agencies of the government amount to $2,875,135.079 during the fiscal year July 1, 1920, to June 30, 1921, during nine months of which all the executive officers were filled by Democrats.

During the current fiscal year which ends June 30, next, the ordinary expenditures for the operation of the routine business conducted by the executive agencies will be $1,769,876.072. During all this period these executive officers have been filled by Republicans.

This is a direct and very concrete saving of $907,559.497, which must be credited to the policies of the Republican executives. All of these expenditures are wholly subject control of the executive officers in charge of the several departments, bureaus and commissions which decide the expenditures.

This saving of over $900,000.00 in the conduct of the executive agencies is not the Democrats' charge, a "bookkeeping saving." The saving is actual; it is concrete; it is measurable only in terms of dollars and cents; it is a saving which means $907,559.497 less money to be taken in taxes from the pockets of the American people. This saving which is set forth in the report of the Director of the Budget is the last details of dollars and cents. It is not an imaginary; it is not estimated; it is there; it has been made; it is a concrete saving of $907,559.497.

The other $1,600,000.00 saved by this administration, as compared with the expenditures during the last year of the Wilson administration is accounted for largely by the abolition of the United States Railroad Administration, the United States Grain Corporation, the Sugar Equalization Board and other war activities which the Republican Congress elected in 1918 made an end of as rapidly as possible.

This is a 100 per cent plus fulfillment of the 1920 campaign pledges of the Republican party to put more business in government. It is the first and most important step in the program of reconstruction, getting expenses down and putting into effect systems and methods that will permanently keep them down; it is the first and most important duty of every government today. Since March 4, 1921, the United States has made more drastic reductions in public expenditures and greater reductions in public taxes than any nation in the world. With the exception of possibly two others it is the only nation which has made any reductions in public expenditures and taxes.

All this was done under a Republican administration.

The Republican Congress made it possible by the early enactment of the budget law.

The Republican executives, from President Harding down, made the possibility a glorious reality by taking every possible advantage of the budget act to install and complete economies.

ARRESTED TWICE

Two cases were up in the local justice courts, here, this week, and P. C. Colgan, the contractor who is putting the new road through north of town was the prosecutor, the defendant being Mr. and Mrs. Frank Demeter, the former having been his superintendent and the latter his bookkeeper on the job.

According to Mr. Colgan, he became acquainted with Mr. Demeter in connection with the work on the road south of town, last year. He liked the fellow, he said, and engaged him to superintend the work on his job this year. Last week there was some dispute between the two, and Mr. Colgan told Mr. Demeter that he did not want him any longer after Saturday, last. But, he said, Mr. Demeter refused to go on Thursday, of this week. He Colgan had papers served on him to get off the job.

On Wednesday a check for $1,500 was drawn and cashed through the Grange bank at Smethport, which is declared by Mr. Colgan, to be a forgery. The money on this check was said to have been in the possession of Mrs. Demeter, who had been in the habit of writing out the vouchers for the pay roll, for Mr. Colgan to sign.

In this case the stub of the check book shows no notation as to whom the check was drawn, nor the amount for which it was drawn. All the stubs before and several after this particular check, with the exception of the next one following, which was also a blank.

As soon as Mr. Colgan got wise to the matter he caused a warrant to be issued, before Judge McCarty, for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Demeter on the charge of forgery and obtaining money under false pretense.

This case was heard over court by the defendants depositing $1,500 cash bail, which was done, he said, with the identical $1,500 secured on the check.

When Mr. Colgan wanted his account books, showing the time and of his employees, they were not to be had, and Mr. and Mrs. Demeter acknowledged that they had them and would not give them up until they had copied off entries which they claim show a balance due them and on which they would have no other evidence for a settlement.

This latter situation resulted in a warrant being obtained before Judge Heath, and yesterday, after hearing the evidence, bound them over to court under $500 bail, each. Messrs. A. Fitzgibbon and T. R. Wilson, of Bradford, attorneys for the defendants, went their bail.

The cases are quite complicated and the defendants claim that they only want what is due them, while it is apparent that they take a great deal of pleasure in getting a settlement.

MRS. HANCOCK OF SMITHSON DIED FRIDAY

Mrs. Isabelle Hancock, aged 71 years, a well known resident of Smethport, died at the Bradford hospital at 3:40 o'clock Friday morning. Mrs. Hancock had been a patient at the hospital since March 1st. Deceased had been a member of the "East End" Presbyterian church for several years.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Baldwin of Bridgeport, Ill. and Mrs. A. J. Magoo of Charleston, W. Va. one sister, Mrs. W. W. Campbell of Chicago, Pa., one brother, J. R. Smith, of Evans City, Pa. and several grandchildren. L. J. Baldwin and George Baldwin of Brockbridge, Texas; Roland, Isabelle, Stewart and A. J. Magoo, Jr. of Charleston, W. PERMANENCE means ECONOMY.
Permanent fencing protects both stock and crops, and reduces labor. Permanent feeding floors save food and save stock health. Farming, like any other industry, shows greatest profits from proper equipment.

Your local building material dealer deserves much of the credit for modern farm construction. His capital, tied up in comparatively slow moving building materials, has kept on hand the means of community improvement.

With such an investment on his part he naturally has selected such materials as he could safely depend on. For concrete construction, whether fence posts, feeding floors or silos, he is apt to recommend Atlas Portland Cement, "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

AGED SCIENTIST'S TWO WORDS INSPIRED BELL

Professor Henry's Advice Aided Young Inventor in First Transmitting Speech

Robert N. C. S. in his history of the telephone, tells an interesting story of the meeting of Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, and Professor Joseph Henry, who knew more about the theory of electricity than any other American of his time.
Doctor Bell had not at that time invented the telephone but had a conception of it and a theoretical knowledge of how to transmit speech. He had been called to Washington by his patent attorney on matters pertaining to his other inventions and while there, paid his memorable visit to the elderly scientist. The meeting of the aged scientist, who was then seventy-eight, and the young enthusiast of twenty-eight, was destined to have an important influence upon the latter, for having shown Professor Henry his ideas, invention, and words, Bell opened up his heart and told him his theory of speech transmission.
"You are in possession of the germ of a great invention," said Henry, "and I would advise you to work at it until you have made it complete."

"But," replied Bell, "I have not got the electrical knowledge that is necessary." "And it," responded the aged scientist, "I cannot tell you how much these two words have encouraged me," said Bell afterwards, in describing their interview to his parents. "I lay too much in an atmosphere of discouragements for scientific pursuits and such a cheering idea as telegraphing vocal sounds would indeed seem to most minds scarcely feasible enough to spend time working over."
